Verena Lainer

Hatha, Flow, Meditation, Pranayama and Aerial Yoga

"The fascination of movement in combination with our breathing and the resulting stillness led me early on to yoga and meditation. From this has grown a love for the moving body - combined with deep and conscious breathing to arrive completely in the here & now and become still".

Damara Berger

Yoga, Pranayama, Contemplation and Meditation

"Working on wellness, health and deep connection through our bodies remains my daily focus when teaching yoga. I am grateful for the inspiration that has arisen and grown over the past 20 years of teaching yoga. My special interest lies in the role of yoga also as a healing exercise practice on all levels of our being. Yoga is accessible to every person."

Anke Egger

Embodied Flow, Yin, Aerial, Yoga Nidra, Embodied Meditation

Yoga offers a framework to get into feeling, to try out, to play and to explore: "How does "this" feel right now? What do I need today? What is too much?" We combine breath and movement to bring awareness into the body and strengthen the connection to ourselves. In the process, we repeatedly take pauses for feeling. Dynamic, playful and "without eso". For all who enjoy movement."

These yoga sessions at our house are free of charge for our guests.
